City Council Unanimously Selects Former Army Lieutenant Colonel

Edgar W. Blom, 44, lieutenant colonel on terminal leave from the army corps of engineers, Tuesday night was named city manager of Redwood City in a one-hour caucus session attended by all seven councilmen.

Blom, whose official appointment is contingent upon establishing residence here, received the unanimous vote of the councilmen in secret ballot during the meeting at which all of more than 30 applications were considered, Mayor W. W. Hilton said this morning.

The meeting was the first in more than two months in which all councilmen were present to consider appointment to the post vacated in August by Robert W. Mead's resignation.

With the rank of major, Blom was assigned to the Rock Island Engineering District where, as assistant area engineer, he supervised construction of the $21,000,000 Green River ordnance plant at Dixon, Ill.

He requested overseas duty and in February, 1943, was sent to Brisbane, Australia, later being transferred to New Guinea.

He served as executive officer of the task force of engineers which invaded Holland and landed with the assault waves on Apr. 22, 1944. Promoted to lieutenant colonel in August, 1944, Blom landed on Leyte on D-Day in October and served with the 5201st Engineer Construction Brigade.

Last May, he was transferred to Manila where he was engaged in planning the proposed invasion of the Japanese homeland until July when he was sent to the states and subsequently discharged with a total of 119 discharge points.

For his work in the Hollandia and Leyte invasions, Blom was awarded the Legion of Merit. His Asiatic-Pacific Theater of Operations Ribbon contained four campaign stars, and he is entitled to wear two invasion arrows and the Philippine Liberation Ribbon with two stars.

Blom was graduated from Iowa State College in 1929 with a degree in civil engineering. He was employed by a highway construction company for one year before joining the Iowa State Hwy. Commission of which he was assistant administrative engineer when he resigned to become assistant city manager in Ames 10 years later.

He is a past president of the Ames Junior Chamber of Commerce and was active in Boy Scouts of America activities. He is a member of the Iowa Engineering Society of which he served as vice president, and of the American Society of Military Engineers.

Blom, who came to Redwood City while in uniform one month ago, studied Redwood City and conferred with Mayor Hilton before formally applying for the $6000 a year position.

Hilton today said members of the council "had all the confidence in the world in Blom" and that they had offered to aid the new city manager in finding housing.

"Blom's educational background, his past experience and his military service will enable him to handle any postwar problems and to supervise the million-dollar postwar program of public works," the mayor said.

Hilton said he was convinced politics did not play a part in the appointment to reaffirm previous declarations that "there will be no politics in the selection of a new city manager."

5 Non-Injury Accidents Here

Five non-injury accidents in the past 24 hours were reported Monday by Redwood City police.

At 4:07 p. m. Sunday, a car driven by Denny Miller, 24, a sailor stationed at Mare Island, collided with a machine driven by Walter S. Kessler, 63, of San Francisco at El Camino Real and Oakwood Blvd.

Carl C. Bronson, 46, of 420 Eaton Ave. was struck by a hit-run driver at El Camino Real and Broadway Sunday at 7:45 p. m., police said. Bronson was uninjured and managed to get the license of the car which glanced him and sped on. Police said the car belonged to Mrs. A. C. Rudd of 44 Coverup St., Daly City.

Officers have been unable to contact Mrs. Rudd or Bronson today to learn if charges will be pressed.

Another hit-run driver banged the front fender of a car owned by Joe Jochensen in front of his residence at 2108 Middlefield Rd. at 8:20 p. m. Sunday. Jochensen heard the crash from his home and dashed out to the curb but was unable to get the hit-run driver's license, police said.

A machine driven by Walter R. Gibson, 28, a soldier stationed at Camp Roberts, collided with a car driven by Ramona Roth, 31, of Woodland, Sunday at 9:28 p. m., police reported. The accident occurred one-half mile south of Chestnut St. on Bayshore Hwy.

At 6:55 a. m. Monday, a car driven by Imelda S. McKenna, 40, of 523 King St., banged into one driven by Harry Van McColl, 41, of Coquille, Ore. The accident took place at El Camino Real and James Ave.

Collision of 3 Street Cars Causes Injuries to 17 Persons

Seventeen persons were injured in a spectacular three-streetcar crash at South San Francisco Junction opposite Grand Ave. at 11:10 p. m. Saturday when fog blurred the vision of a southbound streetcar driver rounding the curve to the junction and his car ploughed into the back of a motionless car from which passengers were transferring to another streetcar just ahead.

All of the injured were taken to Mills Memorial Hospital, South San Francisco Hospital or to Tanforan Naval Base for treatment. Most seriously hurt were Lt. (jg) C. W. Hoerber, 30, who suffered lacerations of both legs; Seamen 2/c D. N. Bremer, 18, possible fractured jaw and Fireman 2/c H. N. Dron, 19, compound fracture of the left finger. All three are hospitalized at Tanforan.

Deputy sheriffs, South San Francisco police and firemen and California Highway Patrolmen aided in the transfer of injured to five ambulances; two county two from Tanforan and one from Mills. On the scene were Dep. Sheriffs Jack Hordford and Everett Heagney and Patrolmen Walter Swope, John Couch and Otto Schramm of the CHP.

John W. Carter, operator of the car which crashed into the other two, told police that his windshield was cracked with fog and as he came around the turn, his vision was further impaired. He said he jammed the vehicle into reverse but still couldn't avoid hitting the other cars.

Also treated at Tanforan were Seaman 2/c V. D. Fleming, 18, contusions of the right leg; PFC R. J. Knudsen, 25, Hamilton Field, cuts and bruises; PFC E. J. Hamblin, BURLINGAME — Dr. Lester D. Henderson, 59, superintendent of Burlingame Elementary School Dept., for the past 16 years, died at his home here, 1437 Bernal Ave., at an early hour Monday morning, victim of a sudden pulmonary attack.

Dr. and Mrs. Henderson attended the opera in San Francisco Sunday night, had dinner with friends, and returned to their home. A few minutes after retiring, he was seized with a severe attack. Mrs. Henderson and their daughter, Charlotte, a student at Burlingame High School, summoned aid.

At 1:59 a. m., a half hour after the ailment made itself manifest, Dr. Henderson died.

He was a native of Lennox, Iowa. After graduating from Tarkio, Mo., college he taught school in Coeur d'Alene, Ida., then went to Alaska as the territory's first commissioner of education. He organized the school system in Alaska and served as commissioner for 15 years. Resigning, he entered Stanford University, secured his doctorate there, then accepted appointment as superintendent of the Burlingame grade schools.

In addition to this post, Dr. Henderson served as a member of the county school board, occupying that position at the time of his death.

Fill Empty Sockets — Put in Right Size Bulbs for Easy Seeing

Tonight, look around at the lighting in your home. If a lamp or lighting fixture seems dim, look at the light globe. If it is darkened with age and use, it is not giving you the light you are paying for and will soon burn out. Then count the empty sockets and the small-size bulbs that were put in temporarily some time ago.

Make a list of the lamp bulbs needed to restore bright, new lighting throughout your home. Take this list with you when you go shopping. You will find the lamp bulb supply is now plentiful. Good lighting is inexpensive. Use plenty of it.

Living Room. Protect your family's eyesight. 150-watt bulb is right size for many reading lamps.

Kitchen. For that overhead light in the kitchen you need at least 150-watts. Be sure you get right size lamp bulbs.

Child's Study Lamp. Young eyes are too precious to risk. Better get a 150-watt bulb for your child's study lamp.

Boy, 7, Darts From Behind One Car, Is Killed by Another

A Bayshore City father Monday afternoon located his 7-year-old son in the San Francisco Morgue following an accident on Geneva Ave. near Iwo Jima Ave. in which the boy was victim of an automobile. The boy, David Stevenson, was dead upon arrival at Alameda Emergency Hospital, California Highway Patrol officers who investigated the accident said here today.

According to the CHP, the youth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Stevenson of 208 McDonald Ave., Bayshore City, was fatally injured when he darted from behind a parked car into the path of an automobile driven by Mrs. Betty M. Bischois, 22 of San Francisco. Ronald, 8, brother of the dead boy, was a witness to the accident, patrolmen said.

David's whereabouts were revealed to the parents by the brother who ran home and told of the accident.

The body was taken to the United Undertakers, San Francisco, where funeral arrangements are pending. Mrs. Bischois was not held in connection with the fatality.

There are approximately 600,000 workers employed in construction, as compared with 2,200,000 in 1941.

Narcotics, $1000 Cash Stolen

Revelation of the theft of nearly $2000 worth of narcotics, expensive perfume and costume jewelry and $1000 in cash which were stolen from Lock Drug Co., Broadway and Arguello St., between 9 p.m. Sunday and 9 a.m. Monday, was made belatedly Tuesday by the Redwood City Police Dept.

Prop. John Rosselli said today that the State Narcotics Bureau was investigating the theft in the belief that a ring of dope peddlers operating on the Peninsula was responsible.

A state narcotics agent in Redwood City yesterday told Rosselli that the burglary had the earmarks of the dope ring now operating. Redwood City Police Lt. Stanley D. Wood said today he had no idea who might have committed the crime.

Upon coming to work at 9 a.m. Monday, Mr. Leon Plant of San Carlos, discovered the burglary when he went to make change and found the cash drawer containing the weekend receipts rifled.

Rosselli believes the thief or thieves must have hidden in the store or upstairs in the beauty salon as he and Plant locked up for the night Sunday. No means of entry was found. Plant, said however, that the back door was open Monday morning.

The burglar invaded drawers in the prescription room at the back of the store and took all the narcotics except those used in surgery. Missing were several hundred tablets of codeine (a derivative of cocaine) and approximately 120 grains of morphine. Rosselli says a peddler or drug addict must have stolen the narcotics because of the nature of the drugs selected, including hypodermic solutions of the narcotics.

Also stolen were numerous bottles of expensive perfumes, compacts, toilet waters and costume jewelry valued at least $1000, Rosselli said.

Police Officer E. G. Fogarty spent all day yesterday investigating the theft. Wood said. No trace of the burglar or burglars has been found, the lieutenant reported, adding that the police had no suspects.

This is the second time in less than a year that the Lock Drug Store has been robbed, Rosselli said. Last December, a sizeable quantity was taken from the cash register.

Throwing a human interest light on the robbery, Rosselli said today that only last Friday a dealer asked him if he would like to purchase a safe. "Come back the first of the year; I'm too busy now," Rosselli replied. Then the dealer left with the remark, "I hope you don't get robbed before then."

Lock Drug Co. is owned by Rosselli and S/Sgt. N. J. Mangini now stationed with the army in Alabama.

Police gave no reason today for their failure to report the burglary until today.

Curfew was introduced in England about 1065.

Forum Letter

To the Editor:

At the city council meeting, Monday, Oct. 15, 1945, the city council voted to enforce an ordinance that is not only unfair and outdated, but unjust; the enactment of which deprives the younger generation of the city of Redwood City of the privilege of having instruction in which youngsters can be taught poise, self-expression and co-operation.

I, as a property owner of the city of Redwood City, do hereby call to the Editor's attention the above facts, which I consider as one of the most unfair acts to be passed by this council.

I wish these facts to be publicized and brought forward to the people of this area, which is the Class I Area, and have their views on this subject aired.

Service Men, Youths Stage Riot

San Mateo County deputy sheriffs and Daly City police are resuming nightly patrol of the Colonial Drive-In on Junipero Serra Blvd. near Colma where more than 40 civilian youths and service men rioted midnight Saturday.

The midnight melee, which reached a climax when participants rushed a deputy and two Daly City police to free several youths in custody, was first reported by Prop. Rudy Trenton.

Dep. Sheriff Benjamin Silverstein responded, but asked for additional help from Daly City Police Lt. E. Benassini and John Heim.

The officers had halted several fighting youths when the mob attempted to release the prisoners. Benassini and Heim were thrown to the pavement and the crowd dispersed.

Shore patrolmen summoned at 12:25 a.m. arrived 45 minutes after the fighters dispersed, and military police failed to reach the scene.

No property damage was reported at the drive-in which was surveyed by deputies and county probation officers following reports from per-

E. R. Burton Jr. Receives Discharge

Following in his brother's footsteps, Storekeeper 1/c Edward R. Burton Jr. of San Carlos has received his honorable discharge in Seattle and will return home this week. His brother, Chief Quartermaster Norman Burton, was released recently from the navy and his making his home in Redwood City.

They are the sons of Councilman and Mrs. E. R. Burton Sr. of San Carlos. Edward has served in the navy since January, 1942. Both navy men are graduates of Sequoia High School and former students at San Mateo Junior College.

Edward, who was married to the former Ruth Moore in August, 1943, was associated with his father in the Burton-Partland Co. in San Francisco for three years prior to entering the service. He plans to resume his former position.

He has been connected with the port director's office of the Naval Transport Service in Seattle, where his wife also has been living.

sons there that "teen-age youths created disturbances on week-end nights."

A recent raid, led by Sheriff James J. McGee and Probation Officer John S. Cowgill, resulted in a favorable report after numerous youths were questioned, but none taken into custody.

Peninsula Squadron of C.A.P. Announces Series of Flight Scholarships Here

To encourage development of community and individual "air-mindedness" and to stimulate basic aeronautical training, the Peninsula Squadron of Civil Air Patrol has announced a series of flight scholarships to be awarded to outstanding cadet and adult members of the San Jose, Palo Alto Redwood City, and San Mateo Flights in June, 1946.

These scholarships will provide without cost the minimum amount of solo and dual flying time required for the CAA flight test for a private pilot's license. In the case of C.A.P. members being selected for the scholarships who have already attained or are working toward private pilot status, the awards will consist of 40 hours of flight time.

In addition, five scholarships for each flight of the Peninsula Squadron are being offered by Harry White of the Palo Alto Airport Inc.,

Al Norton of Belmont Airport, and Howard White and Fred Sautter operators at the Reid-Hillview Airport in San Jose. These scholarships will entitle the winners to sufficient dual flight instruction for soloing.

Award of all C.A.P. cadet scholarships will be based on comparative standing in all C.A.P. cadet courses during the current year, comparative grades earned in school, general attitude, deportment and character, both in C.A.P. work and in the community as a whole. Adult awards will be based on outstanding service to their particular C.A.P. flight and the entire organization.

A scholarship committee will be selected to judge the candidates for awards by the officers of the Peninsula Squadron Staff and will include at least one representative of Peninsula schools, business or government, C.A.P. or Army Air Force, and parents, C.A.P. cadets.

Squadron-wide C.A.P. scholarships will be financed through Squadron funds, while those awards to be given within individual flights will be financed through local subscriptions of individuals, business organizations, service clubs, etc. An entire scholarship provided by one individual or organization will bear the name of the sponsor at the time of award.

Mrs. Betty Lerner Sues for Divorce

Clarence F. Lerner, owner of a chain of women's apparel shops, Tuesday was sued for divorce by Betty Franchon Lerner, who charged extreme cruelty in a complaint that declared he was "a very rich man worth more than $1,000,000."

Mrs. Lerner, who asks custody of the two children, "reasonable" alimony, and all of the community property, including a home at 337 Selby Ln., Atherton, named three other persons, a corporation and three does in the complaint which asserts the couple was married in Carmel July 16, 1939.

The complaint accused the defendants of concealing information concerning community property for the purpose of defrauding and declared the plaintiff believed the accused intended to take the children from the family home in Atherton. Lerner has an income in excess of $100,000 yearly, the complaint alleges.

Community property includes the home, interest in Brents' Jewelry Store in Alameda County, property in Los Angeles County, bonds, stocks and business assets. She also asks counsel fees, the return of separate property in the

Hugh Taylor Pleads Not Guilty to Charge

Charged with manslaughter, Hugh Taylor, 50, San Mateo lather, pleaded not guilty to arraignment and date for the setting of trial is Oct. 22, Dep. Dist. Atty. A. S. Whitmore said today.

Taylor is charged with the death of Mrs. Mary Pearson in Taylor's San Mateo hotel rooms, Sept. 10.

Defendants include Sue L. Kantor, Joseph Kantor, Phillip A. Hershey, Interstate Utilities Corp., and Brents'.

Two-Car Garage Fire Disrupts Emerald Lake Phone Service

Fire of an unknown origin Monday afternoon gutted a two-car garage belonging to G. Joldersma at 148 Springdale Way, Emerald Lake, and disrupted telephone service for approximately 20 subscribers, San Mateo County Forest Service men reported today.

The fire, reported at 4:05 p.m. by Mrs. H. Buggein, a neighbor, was halted by fire fighters before flames could spread to the home 20 feet service records stated.

Telephone service in the vicinity was temporarily disrupted when fire burned a cable in front of the empty garage.

Neither of the Joldersmas, who moved into the house only two days ago, was home at the time, firemen said.

Damage approximated $200, forest

Grand Jury To Summon Peterson

County Executive Frederick Peterson will be summoned soon before the County Grand Jury to explain his criticism of the jury's welfare committee's report on Canyon Sanatorium, it was reliably learned Tuesday.

After the jury committee issued a recent report, commending the county's purchase of Canyon Sanatorium, which Peterson opposed, the county executive issued a blunt criticism of the committee's report.

The jury members were reported by Peterson's comment that "the only thing accomplished by the grand jury committees so far has been to give San Mateo County a great deal of unfavorable publicity."

The grand jury committee on law enforcement — within whose jurisdiction lies the investigation of county gambling — will pay a visit to the offices of the sheriff and the district attorney tomorrow morning.

At 10 a.m. the committee will visit the office of Dist. Atty. Gilbert D. Ferrell to inspect the details of its operation. Ferrell is on vacation.

At 11 a.m. the committee will make what its members say will be "a routine inspection" of the sheriff's office and the county jail. Members of the jury committee include Clyde Maxwell, Allan F. Hunt and Howard Stafford.

Peninsula Butchers Back To Work

Butchers in seven San Mateo County markets — two of which were in Redwood City — Tuesday were back at work after a brief walk-out over refusal of market owners to accept an "employers' restriction" clause in new contracts.

Edwin F. Michelsen, secretary of Butchers Union, Local 516, today announced the two local markets, two in San Mateo, two in Burlingame and one in San Carlos, have agreed to acceptance of the clause.

Redwood City stores affected by the walk-out were Territo's Market and the California Market. A third market, previously reported closed by the disagreement, was voluntarily closed by the owner who attended a settlement meeting in San Mateo, Michelsen said.

Earl Schmitt, secretary of the Peninsula Meat Dealers' Assn., said that the dealers conceded to the union demands and accepted the terms of the new contract including the "employers' restriction" clause, announced cause of the strike.

Michelsen said today that the clause restricted employers from handling the tools of the trade before or after regular hours unless work has been offered to the entire crew. He said also the clause specifies that the union will allow overtime work only as long as the emergency lasts and sufficient help cannot be supplied.

Robert Clarkson Celebrates End of Long Army Service

Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Clarkson, 1048 Jefferson Ave., left Monday for a 30-day vacation celebrating the end of Clarkson's four years, nine months and 13 days in the Army of the United States. They plan to travel to Tahoe, Reno, Sonora, Los Angeles and other points.

Clarkson joined "San Francisco's Own" 250th Coast Artillery, and went to Alaska with Headquarters company in 1941. He saw duty at Anchorage and on Attu before the regiment was recalled to Ft. Lewis and later to Camp Gruber, Okla., where it was split into groups and completely reorganized.

Clarkson's unit went from Gruber to Camp Shanks, N. Y., to Lucky Strike, France, and was at various times attached to two armies, the 7th and 15th. The unit threw its 8-inch howitzers into action against the Germans while attached to the 94th Division.

After the hostilities ended the unit was assigned to military police and security guard duties in Germany. At Dijon, France, Clarkson, a communications man in the army, was chief operator for the telephone exchange.

He returned to the U. S. via Marseilles and Boston, and was discharged at Camp Beale. He wears the Asiatic-Pacific, European, African-Middle East campaign ribbons, plus the pre-Pearl Harbor and Good Conduct Medals.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Clarkson Sr., 421 Harrison. His brother, George Clarkson, is stationed at Camp McPherson, Ga.

Four Real Estate Transactions Exceed Total of $300,000

Four real estate transactions exceeding a total of $300,000 were recorded with County Recorder T. Clark Rice this week.

The largest, recorded, represents the sale of fifty-five acres of unsubdivided land near Colma from Lucien P. and Fernande Brassy of San Francisco to Henry and Ellis Stoneson, real estate developers, for an indicated price of $138,000.

The property adjoins land recently acquired by the Stonesons who plan to subdivide the acreage. Deed was filed at request of California Pacific Title Co.

In a $65,000 transaction, Lloyd A. Johnson, president of the National Motor Bearing Co., purchased the former George Armes home and adjoining six acres on Atherton Ave., Atherton. Deed was recorded at request of San Mateo County Title Co.

Thirty-two acres of orchard land on Middlefield Rd. near the Flood Estate were sold to Mr. and Mrs. John H. Kemp Jr. of San Carlos, for an indicated price of $57,500. Former owners of the property were Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Baccio and Mr. and Mrs. Frances Raggio of San Francisco. San Mateo County Title Co. filed the deed.

The Hillview Sanatorium on Ralston Ave. in Belmont was sold to Mr. and Mrs. Paul H. Gardiner, San Francisco realtor, and Don S. Alford, Belmont realtor, by members of the Hansen family whose home is a landmark on the three-acre site.

Albert M. Hansen, Harold E. Hansen and Henry A. Hyne, all of Belmont, received an indicated price of $45,000 for the property, tax stamps indicated. Deed was filed by California Pacific Title Co.

GARDEN: Lemon Tree Produce Jumps From 3 to 69

By ROLLY LANGLEY

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Knowles have seen something that amazes them, and they scarcely know what to do about it. . . . Their Meyer lemon tree is going to town, and: "Last year it produced three lemons and now I count 69 and it has just come out in full blossom all over again. It is such a little tree, I wonder if it could stand all the weight. It's only five feet tall."

A little tree that's producing that way at 1819 65th Ave., Oakland, must have things just to its liking, and I'd not disturb it much, except to feed it complete fertilizer gradually to supply needed strength and nutrients. If the fruit seems too much of a burden, some can be taken off now, and some of the crowding blossoms could also be taken off. I'd be inclined to thin the fruit a bit, feed and water the tree regularly and knock off a few of the blossoms, so as not to overtax it—kill the goose that's laying the golden eggs.

Mrs. B. W. Hunt of Upper Happy Valley writes, "I am grateful for your advice about the calcium arsenate. If it hadn't been for that we would not have had a green thing in the garden with those diabrotica!" Calcium arsenate or cryolite are also good control for caterpillars.

For lawn moths and sodwebworms, however, you'd better spray the lawn with a solution of lead arsenate. Use 10 level tablespoons per gallon of water, and mix in four level tablespoons of flour. With a sprinkling can, spray this solution at the rate of one half gallon per square yard of lawn. Spraying with dichloroethyl ether solution will also control the pests in the lawn and help eliminate those brown patches.

Mrs. L. J. Hausch responds with a good one to the call for garden oddities: "I wonder if this could be one for you. . . . A healthy, much blooming pansy plant grew to be exactly 44 1/2 inches tall."

Dr. Cox Calls Upon R.C. Business Men To Modernize City

By NITA REIFSCHEIDER

Dr. Frank Cox of the State Dept. of Education Tuesday called upon Redwood City residents and business men to plan a progressive and modern downtown area, warning a pending period of competition and enterprise will eliminate complacent communities.

In a critical speech before the more than 200 persons assembled for the Chamber of Commerce Roast Beef Victory Dinner, Dr. Cox outlined the growth of California and predicted continued growth would be accompanied by decentralization of large cities.

Declaring the Peninsula might absorb an additional million persons, he challenged community ability to keep up with the predicted growth and said "Your competitor is a four-lane highway to San Francisco and San Jose."

His speech followed a 30-minute radio broadcast conducted by Announcer Norvell Gillespie, which will be transcribed over Station KVA between 10:30 and 11 p.m. tonight.

H. June Anderson was winner of a 17-jewel wrist watch in a radio contest in which P. Q. Wray and Mrs. Carl E. Ward related their most embarrassing experiences.

Chamber Pres. Teddy Lauman was awarded a cake of ice "to cool off" after he opened the show with strong "boosts" for Redwood City.

Roy J. Patton, Mrs. Victor Schath, Ted Thompson, Mrs. Ted Thompson, John Ryan, John Layng, Oadys Peterson, H. E. Holmquist, S. D. Herkner, Ray Spangler, Mrs. Cutler L. Brown, Franklin Thomas, Mrs. John Mack, Don Buttle, Barbara Hallett and Ray Ross were participants on the program.

In his address Dr. Cox cited the statistical trend of growth in the state and said one million persons may be expected to settle in the state in the immediate postwar years.

The population increase and accompanying decentralization will bring a challenge to suburban communities which have not planned for growth, he continued, citing narrow streets, and lack of parking space as indicating lack of progressiveness.

"If you don't do something about taking care of traffic, traffic will take care of itself, and it will move on," he warned.

"Between 1939 and 1945, the business man has had things too easy," he continued.

"The business man has been able to sell almost everything in his store to a public with money, Dr. Cox related, cautioning that another five years will find the merchant entering a period that will try his ingenuity and endurance. A personal survey conducted by Dr. Cox in Redwood City yesterday revealed only three modern store fronts on the city's main streets, he told the audience. Ten store fronts were "passable," but the others were not up to standard, he declared.

A survey of Redwood City might disclose as much as 65 cents of every dollar here is spent outside of the city, Dr. Cox said.

The proposed Business Planning Institute which will be held in Redwood City in January has been offered by the bureau of business education, California State Dept. of Education, to help business men to study needs and better selling means, he added.

The radio show was sponsored by National Motor Bearing Co. prizes were contributed by S&W Fine Foods.

Flower decorations were contributed by Hans Jacobsen of the Woodside Begonia Gardens and James Knecht of the William Zappetta Co.

Impromptu entertainment was provided by Walter T. (Bud) Kellogg Jr., Mrs. Brown and Duncan Reynard.

Confirms Settlement

Momentarily-expected filing of a petition for leave to compromise will soon bring an end to the long-contested Herscher claim on the estate of the late Fannie Mae Howard-Herscher, Atty. Henry Robinson indicated Monday.

Robinson, who said the petition would be filed here in the next "two or three days," today confirmed the reported compromise, which would grant Edmond Herscher approximately $150,000 from his wife's $2,500,000 estate.

The settlement includes payment for claimed services and personal property which Herscher has maintained was given to him by the woman before her death.

Robinson, co-counsel for Herscher, said the settlement papers had been drawn up, representing the first time a reported compromise had been put down on paper, and that they had been dispatched to Los Angeles and Atty. Neil McCarthy, legal counsel for Lindsay and Robert Howard, executors.

Other matters in the lengthy court case are slated to be heard before Superior Judge Andrew Schottky Thursday.

S.C. Planning Commission Recommends Rezoning of Lots

SAN CARLOS—A recommendation to the San Carlos City Council to rezone two lots on the south side of San Carlos Ave. and Walnut St. from residential to business was made by the Planning Commission Monday at the city hall at a public hearing to which approximately 200 interested persons appeared. Gordon Bye, who just previous to the hearing was appointed, in caucus, to head the planning commission succeeding Fred Drake, set the tone of the more than two hours' discussion by demanding friendliness in the proceedings and repudiating any show of personalities.

There was little objection to San Carlos Ave. as a business street as such brought out during the evening. It was pointed out rather that it was "the natural flow" where shoppers and commuters congregated. However, a group of merchants and real estate men with interests on Laurel St. indicated this street had been zoned for several miles the past 20 years for business and it was not fair to stimulate trade elsewhere right now.

Luther M. Carr, attorney of Burlingame, representing Dave Simpson and John Forsythe, owners of the lots on San Carlos Ave., disputed the fact that their clients had been designated as "speculators." He said Forsythe was a respected citizen of his city who had headed War Bond drives, was past president of the Kiwanis Club and a very civic minded person, and that Simpson, in San Carlos for 20 years. Both men showed plans of their proposed buildings. Forsythe has

Employees Elect

More than 100 county employees returned to their jobs throughout the state Monday following a three-day convention of the League of County Employees Assns. in San Mateo.

The convention, which concluded Sunday at a breakfast, was highlighted Saturday night by a banquet and ball at which Charles W. Markle of Contra Costa County was installed as president for the coming year.

Maurice Donovan, president of the San Mateo County Employees' Assn., was elected second vice president in the state-wide league, and Miss Mura Stilleon, member of the San Mateo group, was named to the retirement committee.

Frank Bruha, San Diego County, was named first vice president and Ernest S. Wooster, Orange County, was elected secretary-treasurer. The officers and Mrs. Gladys Johnson, Los Angeles County, J. Arthur Anderson, retiring president from Orange County, and J. C. Roberts, Riverside County, were named to the executive committee.

Members of the membership and public relations committee include: Frank Bruha, San Diego County; C. O. Harvey, Los Angeles County; Emery F. Mitchell, Humboldt County; E. Bud Gregg, Stanislaus County; A. H. Berryhill, Tulare County; R. E. Richardson, Ventura County; Thomas W. McCarthy, San Francisco County.

J. C. Roberts of Riverside County, J. Paul Rhodes of Contra Costa County, Ralph W. Simmons of Santa Clara County and Miss Stilleon comprise the retirement committee. San Diego was chosen as the 1946 convention city.

News of Commuters

BY LOCOMOTIVE BILL

Romance of commuting—a short history (continued from last week) "Billy" Ralston, termed by one well-known author as the man who built San Francisco, was not only generous with his home city and his pal Pete Donahue when it came to spreading his money around but he wasn't adverse to doing a little something for other causes when called upon for assistance. Very few people know that Redwood City was also a beneficiary of his.

Million dollar bond issues were not too well known in those days and when the city fathers decided that some street grading was badly needed with very little money in the till to finance it, the man who came through handsomely was our friend "Billy" Ralston.

Shortly after receiving the necessary funds from Ralston, ground was broken for the extension south of the railroad. It was not long before the Big Four who up to then had been paying little attention to Scotty Donahue suddenly realized that here was a real threat to their plan to control all Pacific Coast transportation. So they proceeded to do something about it. They decided to build the San Jose road and the Southern Pacific Railroad Co.

Now Pete was no blushing violet when it came to listening and when the Big Four boys mentioned the sum of three and a quarter million dollars it was a deal. That was his price and represented a cool million-dollar profit. Of course it wasn't the money so much that caused Pete to sell to hear him tell it, but rather the fact that he wanted to give all of his spare time to a new railway project east of the bay which he had been planning.

The Big Four kept the purchase secret and it was some time before the commuters knew what happened.

Time marched on with very few changes of any importance in the road, outside of the building of double tracks and the abandonment of the San Bruno hill route for that along the shore of the bay.

And so it can be said that today the old San Francisco and San Jose with the exception of the Ocean Shore railway which lasted a few short years, is still the only railway on the Peninsula going into San Francisco thanks to that courageous and adventurous Scotchman, Peter Donahue.

On Thursday, Oct. 11, at the Commuter Club dinner meeting at the Woman's Club, Mrs. Muriel Tsvetkoff, general manager of the Better Business Bureau in San Francisco an architect's drawing of a bank but he said this was only tentative, though he had been approached by a bank. Simpson did not tell the nature of his business. Carr indicated Simpson's lot was adjacent to the one of Carl Anderson whose house was now being moved to make room for a business establishment. Carr emphasized he was just previous to the hearing was appointed, in caucus, to head the planning commission succeeding Fred Drake, set the tone of the more than two hours' discussion by demanding friendliness in the proceedings and repudiating any show of personalities.

To some objections that the esthetic approach to San Carlos would be marred and that San Carlos had been compared to Carmel in its uniqueness and wished to remain so, Carr said he also greatly admired Carmel and he thought it had a beautiful shopping center, and why couldn't San Carlos do the same?

Neil Davis as spokesman for the Laurel St. group said this was the first opportunity in 20 years for some of the property owners on that street to realize on their business holdings and now "these boys had come down here and jumped on the gravy wagon," and he considered it a great injustice to open up more business.

Carr retorted to this that it was Davis himself who had sold the property to his clients.

Bye concluded the matter by stating "if a particular faction is against something it usually makes it a point to get out" and this instance few, he said, had come forward.

A request from the residents of the block on Laurel St. who recently opposed the erection of a mortuary now asked for the lots between Brittan Ave. and Morse Bldg. be rezoned from business to restricted residential.

The request was not considered too favorably by the commission particularly in view of earlier arguments in the evening that business owners on Laurel were "just coming into their own."

Councilman Truman S. Waterman vigorously defended the business holder of that street, as he had done at a recent council meeting backing up Mayor A. H. Sagehorn on the statement that zoning of Laurel was "grossly unfair." The previous request had asked for first residential. Donald Lilly also opposed the idea but said he could "stand a hearing on it."

It was voted to hold one in December.

Appointed last night as secretary of the commission was James Hugh Martin. Other members present were William Scott, George Lagomarsino, City Atty. Carl Anderson, City Engineer Robert Klarsen, Lilly, Drake, Waterman and Bye.

Sempervirens Club Concerned Over Butano

The newly-revived Sempervirens Club of Palo Alto is considering what official bodies, lodges, outdoor clubs and other groups can be enlisted in the campaign to raise "matching money" for purchase of the Butano Forest as a state park, former Senator Herbert C. Jones of San Jose said Wednesday.

He said he felt the plan to save the great San Mateo County tract of virgin timber should appeal to San Francisco and Oakland as well as to the San Jose and Santa Cruz areas.

The State Park Commission, Jones said, has received more than 300 communications from independent organizations and individuals urging acquisition of Butano.

She stated that the sales appeal is clever and the promoters not only use the mail but also the telephone and to take money away from those unfortunate people on their sucker list. She stated that while fake stocks bring in considerable revenue the offering of worthless business opportunities to returning veterans anxious to go into business for themselves, is also a nice lucrative racket. Mrs. Tsvetkoff warned her listeners that the Better Business Bureau should be consulted by anyone before investing money in doubtful stocks, contributing to unknown veteran organizations or otherwise donating money to doubtful enterprises.

She stated that the bureau has thousands of records gathered from all over the United States and their service is available to the public free of charge. Redwood City residents should call the Redwood City Chamber of Commerce which subscribes to this service.

Atherton Girl Knocked Off Horse, Injured

PALO ALTO—Marie Jo Jepson, 12, daughter of H. J. Jepson, 106 San Benito Ave., Atherton, suffered a concussion when the horse she was riding, shied and ran under the limb of a tree, knocking her to the ground Sunday afternoon.

She was taken to Palo Alto Hospital in a semi-conscious condition, but her father reported this morning that she had regained consciousness. At the time of the accident Marie was riding behind the Menlo Circus Club.

Loading of Last Navy Shipment Heralds Port Return to City

The beginning of the end of navy activities at the city-owned Port of Redwood City got under way Wednesday, as stevedores began loading 35,000 barrels of petroleum products—last of an original stockpile of 300,000 barrels.

The SS Creighton Victory, destined for China with a full load of kerosene, diesel oil and gasoline, will be ready to leave the port's docks next Tuesday, navy officers there predicted today.

Disposal of the once-mammoth stock of oil products leaves only the navy-installed equipment and other facilities at the port to be withdrawn by Nov. 1, unofficial deadline when the city expects return of the port.

Full complement of the navy staff at the port is still on the job, officers said.

Eighty-five miles of Russo-Japanese frontier cross the jointly-owned island of Soviet Sakhalin and Japanese Karafuto.

Plan 3-Day Festival In Palo Alto

A three-day festival in Palo Alto, Nov. 10, 11, 12, is being arranged by the United Veterans Council of Palo Alto as a welcome to all veterans of World War II who live in Palo Alto or neighboring communities.

Invitations are being sent to veterans groups, fraternal organizations, Boy Scout groups, and military personnel, in Menlo Park, Redwood City, Los Altos and Mountain View.
